

October 22, 2025: On Donald Trump's Team Continuing to Intrude Into my Attorney-Client Relationships

I am writing to publicly document that my attorney-client communications are continuing to experience intrusions from the outside forces of a spying entity portraying itself with the characteristics and personality of Donald Trump. This is a direct extension from the actual campaign of Donald Trump for President in 2024 to the present date.

I am writing to document the use of 'air horns' to inject sound into our home at the same moment that I am writing about an 'acknowledgement' in my communications to my attorney.

This is a direct and intentional intrusion into my private legal affairs and is a continuing abuse of spying technology to cause mental anguish in an already difficult process of buying and selling property in an international market.

This is simply a factual recording of what occurred within the last 15 minutes as I draft an important, lengthy and detailed, email to our attorneys in Spain about very specific language that the State of Texas is objecting to in our request for what is known as an Apostille.

Yesterday, I drove from San Antonio to Austin, for the Texas Secretary of State to decline to issue an Apostle due to their very minor and petty disagreement with the language contained within our Power of Attorney.

I am hoping to re-draft the document to work around the petty and hair-splitting objections presented by the Office of the Texas Secretary of State so that I am not required to sue them, as well, to enforce our legal rights to their services.

In summary, we are continuing to experience the malicious spying campaign of 'DJ' Donald Trump as he invades every aspect of our private life with a threatening and abusive soundtrack for our daily routine.
